

Interactive comment on “Chemical mass balance estimation of arsenic in atmospheric dust fall out in an urban residential area, Raipur, Central India” by G. Balakrishna et al.

Anonymous Referee #2

Received and published: 11 March 2011

The manuscript requires major grammatical and minor spelling corrections. What are the reasons behind the high (for instance, highest rate in winter at ambient-outdoor level) and low values during other seasons. The results should be compared to other similar literature work if possible, as it will give strength to the results. Some corrections are also required to be done in the references: Pandey, P. K., Patel, K. S., and Subrt, P: is mentioned as "Pandey and Patel, 1998" in the text Deb, M. K., Thakur, M., Mishra, R. K., and Bodhankar, N.: Water is mentioned as (Deb and Thakur, 2002 in the text

Tsai et al., 2003: is not mentioned in the References

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., 10, 26411, 2010.

C14514