

Interactive comment on “Sources and fluxes of organic nitrogen in precipitation over the southern East/Japan Sea: potential impacts on marine productivity” by G. Yan and G. Kim

Anonymous Referee #1

Received and published: 15 January 2015

I understood my questions from your answer. Thank you for your answer! The sources and components of organic nitrogen in aerosols and rain are still unknown, I expect this research will progress in the future. I support this publication as discussion paper to ACP in a final version.

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., 14, 31987, 2014.

C11219