

Interactive comment on “Emissions factors for gaseous and particulate pollutants from offshore diesel engine vessels in China” by F. Zhang et al.

F. Zhang et al.

zhangfanshuangyue@163.com

Received and published: 27 October 2015

Thanks for your comment.

Shipping emissions is indeed becoming one important environmental problem in offshore areas in China, and is getting more and more attention. We are focusing on adding the measurement data to the database of shipping emissions in China. In the near future, more types and more number of ships including slow speed, medium speed and high speed engines will be tested to give more detailed data of emission factors in our study.

Thanks again.

---

C8551

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., 15, 23507, 2015.

C8552