
Interactive
Comment

Interactive comment on “Rebuilding sources of linear tracers after atmospheric concentration measurements” by J.-P. Issartel

A. Baklanov (Referee)

alb@dmi.dk

Received and published: 8 August 2003

References for Interactive comment of A. Baklanov (Referee), published 25 July 2003, Marchuk, G. I., 1992: Adjoint equations and analysis of complex systems. Moscow:
Nauka (in Russian), English version published in 1995 by Kluwer Academic Publication, 466 p.

Pudykiewicz, J. A., 1998: Application of adjoint tracer transport equations for evaluating source parameters, Atmos. Environ. 32, pp. 3039-3050.

Baklanov, A. 2000: Modelling of the atmospheric radionuclide transport: local to regional scale. Numerical Mathematics and Mathematical Modelling, INM RAS, Moscow, Vol. 2 (Special Issue dedicated to 75-year Jubilee of Academician G.I. Marchuk), pp.
244-266.

Full Screen / Esc

Print Version

Interactive Discussion

Discussion Paper

© EGS 2003

Interactive
Comment

Penenko, V.V., 1981: Methods of numerical modelling of atmospheric processes. Leningrad, Hydrometeoizdat, 351 p. (in Russian) Penenko, V., A. Baklanov and E. Tsvetova, 2002: Methods of sensitivity theory and inverse modeling for estimation of source term. Future Generation Computer Systems, 18: 661-671.

Marchuk, G. I., 1973: Perturbation theory and the statement of inverse problems. Lecture Notes in Computer Science, V. 4, 159.

Some earlier publications of the Novosibirsk school, leaded by G.I. Marchuk, in Russian (this list is very far from a complete one):

Marchuk, G.I., 1964: Equation for value of information from meteorological satellites and formulation of inverse problems. Space research, v. 2, no. 3, 462-477.

Marchuk, G.I. and V.V. Penenko, 1979: Some applications of optimization methods to the environment problem. In: Numerical methods in applied mathematics, Novosibirsk: Nauka, pp. 5-22.

Marchuk, G.I., 1982: Mathematical modelling in environmental problem. Moscow: Nauka, 319 p.

Penenko, V.V. and V.F. Raputa, 1983: Some models for optimisation of atmospheric emission sources. Meteorology and Hydrology, no. 2, pp. 59-68.

Rigina, O.Yu., 1985: Optimal control of atmospheric ventilation regimes based on 2D numerical model of atmospheric boundary layer. Master Science Thesis. Supervisor Prof. V.V. Penenko. Novosibirsk State University. Faculty of Mathematics and Mechanics, Dept. of Mathematical Methods for Geophysics. Novosibirsk, 1985, 34 p.

Baklanov, A., 1986: Numerical modelling for normalisation of atmospheric environment on industrial sites. In: Numerical solution of atmospheric hydrothermodynamics problems, Novosibirsk: Computing Centre RAS, pp. 30-38.

Full Screen / Esc

Print Version

Interactive Discussion

Discussion Paper

Interactive
Comment

Full Screen / Esc

Print Version

Interactive Discussion

Discussion Paper