We note that the the second volume of our Evaluation is well received and we thank those who have commented in the interactive discussion. In response we

1) will follow the suggestion of Dr Poeschl regarding the insertion of gas phase into the titles and restructuring of the introductory material. 2) Will attend to the correction of typographical errors suggested by the second (anonymous) reviewer, and will examine the substantial new source material indicated and incorporate it into the revised version as appropriate. In fact we have already updated some of the relevant data sheets (these are on the IUPAC web-site) and this has resulted in minor changes to specific
