

Interactive comment on “MIPAS: an instrument for atmospheric and climate research” by H. Fischer et al.

This overview of the MIPAS instrument is a very useful paper that merits without any doubt to be published.

Besides the technical parts, which are very important - but at the same time not too detailed - it also reviews the many scientific results obtained with MIPAS since 2002.

This is a timely paper, well structured and nice to read, with a lot of information.

I have no modifications to suggest.
