

I would like to thank the authors for having thoughtfully responded to each of my points raised during the review of the original manuscript. I recommend this revised manuscript be published as is. There is little doubt this paper will be frequently cited. I found the quality of the writing, figures and inclusion of relevant references to be first rate.