

Review of the manuscript „The Impact of Non-uniform Sampling on Stratospheric Ozone Trends Derived from Occultation Instruments“ by Damadeo et al.

The revisions to the manuscript answered the questions I had raised in my review. The Appendix and the Supplementary material now contain descriptions and explanations that help the understanding of the main manuscript if the reader wants some more details to specific topics or paragraphs. My suggested changes were considered and mostly implemented in the manuscript.

I can recommend the manuscript for publication now.
