Supplementary Information

Personal exposure to PM₂.₅ emitted from typical anthropogenic sources in Southern West Africa (SWA): Chemical characteristics and associated health risks

Hongmei Xu[1*,2,3,4], Jean-François Léon[2], Cathy Liousse[2*], Benjamin Guinot[2], Véronique Yoboué[5], Aristide Barthélémy Akpo[6], Jacques Adon[2], Kin Fai Ho[7], Steven Sai Hang Ho[3], Lijuan Li[3], Eric Gardrat[2], Zhenxing Shen[1], Junji Cao[3]

Figure S1. Household cooking stoves and tools used in the target households: (a) Simple coal-burning stove and pot; (b) Another type simple coal-burning stove and jar; (c) Butane gas stove and pot; (d) Simple wood-burning stove (three pieces of stones) and pot.

Figure S1.