

Interactive comment on “Insight into the Composition of Organic Compounds ($\geq C_6$) in $PM_{2.5}$ in Wintertime in Beijing, China” by Ruihe Lyu et al.

P.C. Vasconcellos

perola@iq.usp.br

Received and published: 12 February 2019

Interesting data are presented in this paper. Over 300 compounds were found in aerosols collected during haze and non haze events. Many chemical classes of compounds were identified, which there are few papers discussing them. Excellent information for atmospheric chemists. If more samples were collected, PMF could show the contribution of the emissions sources.

Interactive comment on Atmos. Chem. Phys. Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/acp-2018-1273>, 2019.