Comments to the author:

dear Guus,

thank you for the revised manuscript, which I am happy to accept for publication in ACP. I only have one very minor comment. In the abstract (l. 32 of the track changed manuscript) you mention that the "projections showed".. I believe that this may be misleading and would suggest to rephrase to something like "Emissions were projected to ...", as I believe that it is misleading to say that a projection shows something.

best regards, Andreas

The sentence has been changed to "In 2015, large increases were projected in HFC use and emissions in this century in the absence of regulations, ..."
