The manuscript was prepared in Latex using Overleaf. Unfortunately track changes is a premium service which I do not currently have access to, and did not have the foresight to find an alternative to until after all the revisions were made. We apologise for this and hope that this is not detrimental to the submission. We have tried to clearly outline where changes have been made to the manuscript in the reviewer comments and hope that this will be sufficient.